Six Programs Newly Accredited through the CSCSC's National Accreditation Program

April 1, 2010, Mississauga, Ontario – On March 26, the Canadian Supply Chain Sector Council accredited six educational programs through its National Accreditation Program (the NAP), bringing to 14 the number of educational offerings accredited through the NAP since the program was established in August 2009.

The newly accredited programs are:

Champlain College – St. Lambert	Specialist in Transportation and Logistics Program
Collège Communautaire du Nouveau Brunswick – Dieppe	Business Administration, Logistics and Transportation Program
Georgian College of Applied Arts and Technology	Business Logistics Program
HBI College	Supply Chain and Inventory Management Diploma Program
Wilfrid Laurier University	BBA Supply Chain Management Concentration Program
	MBA Supply Chain Management Concentration Program

The NAP recognizes educational offerings in supply chain-related topics that meet the Council's standards for accreditation, created with the assistance of CSA Standards and with significant input from supply chain stakeholders.

The standards are based on national and international best practices and principles, and include requirements for course/program needs assessment, design, development, delivery, and student evaluation. To be accredited, a course or program must meet all of the standards.

Post-secondary institutions, associations and private training schools are eligible to submit their programs and courses for review.

It is important to note that education providers themselves are not accredited; it is specific programs or individual courses that are accredited.

The deadline for submission of information about courses or programs for review in the next round is May 1, 2010. Subsequent deadlines are August 1 and November 1. Applications are submitted electronically and are reviewed by the Council's Accreditation Review Panel.

More information about the NAP standards, fees and review process is available on the Council's website, at www.supplychaincanada.org/en/NAP.

The Canadian Supply Chain Sector Council is an all-stakeholder, not-for-profit organization responsible for the human resources strategy for the supply chain sector in Canada. The CSCSC is funded by the Government of Canada's Sector Council Program.
